Dvar Torah - What is a Leader? by Rabbi Binyomin Luban

From this week's Parsha, we can learn an important lesson in leadership. Hashem told Moshe that the Jews deserved to be destroyed, due to their sinning in the חטא העגל. Moshe beseeches Hashem to spare the Jews, concluding his prayers by saying, "ואם

ואם "אין מחני נא מספרך אשר כתבת do not forgive them, wipe me out from the book that you have written". The ספורנו explains that Moshe was telling Hashem that he should take the merits from all of Moshe's מצוות and transfer them to the Jews, in order that they should be worthy of being saved.

Moshe was the greatest צדיק who ever lived, who deserved a reward way beyond anything we can imagine. In order for Moshe to reach this amazing level, he must have worked tirelessly, year after year, to perfect himself and to perform the מצוות. Yet Moshe was willing to sacrifice the efforts of his entire life, and the tremendous reward that he deserved, in order to save his fellow Jews. This was the degree of dedication that Moshe had for the Jewish people.

The Parsha continues that Hashem accepted Moshe's prayers and spared the Jews. At the same time, Moshe is commanded to move his tent outside the Jewish camp.

The Torah tell us that when Moshe walked to his tent, the Bnei Yisroel משה אחרי משה - they stared at Moshe. The Gemorah in Kiddushin (לג,ב) brings different opinions as to what they were thinking when they stared at Moshe. One opinion is that they were thinking, "Look how fat he is from eating our wealth."

This seems very strange. Moshe just saved them from total destruction, he offered his entire life work and his portion to in the World to Come to save them, and yet they viewed him disparagingly, believing that he was getting fat from stealing their wealth.

The Torah is teaching us that no matter how sincere and dedicated a leader is, there will always be people who will criticize him and view him disparagingly. This is true of all leaders: a leader of a nation, a leader of a school, a leader of a classroom, and even a leader of a family. True leaders do not become leaders in order to gain popularity. Rather, they do so only to help the people they are leading, and are totally dedicated, irrelevant of whether or not they are appreciated.

May we all be זוכה to become true leaders.

Dvar Halacha – More Halachos of Netilas Yadaim

by Jacob Gassner, Grade 12

When one thinks of Netilas Yadaim, the first thing that comes to mind is pouring the water with a cup. However, when it comes to Netilas Yadaim in preparation for the recital of Kriyas Shma or for Tefilah, one can fulfill his obligation by simply dipping his hands inside a basin of water. One can apply this halacha in the following case: If one is camping and he doesn't have access to cups or faucets, all he would have to do is insert his hands into a river or lake to fulfill his obligation of washing Netilas

Yadaim for Kriyas Shma and Tefilah. It is a machlokes whether one is able to even get rid of the Ruach Ra'ah (evil spirit) this way as well, or if one must actually pour the water over his hands three times. The Mishneh Brurah seems to conclude that dipping one's hands three times in a river or stream rids one of the Ruach Ra'ah, as well .
