CHANUKAH CONCERT AND SEVIVON SPECTACULAR!

Wednesday was an exciting day at Toras Emes as we celebrated the eighth day of Chanukah with an incredible concert performance and spinning Sevivon contest.

Our thanks to Mr. Shlomo Stauber and Azamra Orchestra for their time and tremendous talent as they entertained the students with a rousing medley of Chanukah songs. The spirit and dancing were fantastic!

The students all enjoyed the opportunity to try their hand at spinning the dreidels and eating the fruits of their labors (jelly beans!)

What a great way to end our Chanukah celebrations for 5772. Can't wait till next year! (See photos)

PLEASE NOTE:

ASARA B'TEVES—JANUARY 5
Regular sessions. No Mishmar.

TEAM TEACHERS THANK YOU

TEAM teachers and staff gratefully acknowledge all the parents who so generously participated in the Chanukah Gifts for Teachers Program. Due to your participation in this project, we were able to show true Hakaros HaTov to our hard working Toras Emes staff and bestow each and every member of our staff with a worthy gift.

The TEAM Staff extends a very special thank you to the Parents' Association for providing our most deserving teachers with a beautiful and delectable Chanukah Luncheon on Wednesday. Our gratitude and heartfelt thanks go to Mrs. Esta Rosenberg and Mrs. Esther Entin for organizing and setting up the fabulous luncheon.

An opportunity for sponsorship of "The Chosen Words" is still available and your help would be greatly appreciated. The $360 sponsorship, in memory, in honor of, or for a Refuah Shelaima, will be printed at the bottom of each Chosen Words that appears in our weekly newsletter for the entire year of 5772.

NICHUM AVEILIM

To Mrs. Jennifer Lehrfield and family on the loss of her father. She is at home on Motzei Shabbos—1310 Northeast 173 Street. Shiva ends Sunday morning.

A.M. CARPOOL UPDATE

Be advised:

If you are dropping off ECE children, school personnel are available to take children from your car in the first five spots in the carpool line (3 past, and 2 before, the crosswalk). When approaching—pull up as far as you can (without blocking the crosswalk). When dropping off, always pull over close to the edge of the street. Thank you.

PARSHA WITH THE PRINCIPAL

Rabbi Baumann's weekly Parashas

HaShavua class takes place every Thursday, 8:45-9:30 am,

in the main office.

All are welcome to attend.

LASHON HATOV

Our Lashon Hatov board is complete!! For the past four weeks, 5B has been working on Lashon Hatov—improving the way we speak to, and about, each other. The boys have been submitting many great reports about each other and have completed an entire bulletin board with well over 300 reports!! The boys will celebrate their great accomplishment with a trip next week. More details to follow.

Erev Shabbos Parashas Vayeeegash 5772

Dear Parents,

One of the most complex and tricky tasks a parent faces is helping his child form positive, productive friendships with peers. Step number one, obviously, is to place the child in an environment where the types of friends you would like him or her to have are in the greatest abundance. To achieve this, parents move from one city or neighborhood to another, choose schools and camps on the basis of it, and may pick a particular shul or minyán because of it. They'll decide what homes their child may visit and under what circumstances, and who may be invited into their home for a play date.

That's the easy part. Teaching one's child how to be discerning on their own when interacting with others in school, shul or camp without hovering and dictating to the child who they can or cannot be friends with is a tightrope every parent needs to walk. It may be necessary and appropriate every once in a very rare while to confront your child directly and let him or her know that you do not approve of a certain friend. Make it a habit, however, and you're inviting rebellion. If a child can't operate somewhat independently in his or her own social universe, what do they have going for them?

Truly helping your child requires an ongoing series of mini-lessons, giving tips and pointers as the opportunities arise on what constitutes a healthy friendship, and what needs to be avoided, for your child's own sake. One striking message can be gleaned from this week's Parsha. At the very beginning, (44:18) Yehuda tells the viceroy, Yosef, "You are like Pharaoh." Rashi explains this is a criticism – just as Pharaoh decrees and does not fulfill, so too you. The Sifsei Chachomim (quoting the Mizrachi) explains that the royal decrees of Egypt did not allow a slave to rule. When Pharaoh elevated Yosef, he violated this rule. What Yehuda was saying in effect, was – you Yosef rely on Pharaoh for your power, but Pharaoh is dishonest and he'll betray you like he disobeyed his own rules.

The Rosh HaYeshiva, HaGaon HaRav Alter Chanoch Henoch Leibowitz, zt'l asked what kind of proof is this of Pharaoh's dishonesty and potential disloyalty? Pharaoh violated the law to save his countrymen from starvation, he had no personal agenda. How could Yehuda claim on the basis of that violation of the law, under those circumstances, that Pharaoh would betray Yosef? The Rosh HaYeshiva answered that Pharaoh, by openly disregarding his own laws (he apparently took no steps to legalize his actions) demonstrated a blatant disregard for the truth. Once a person has breached a wall of Emes, truth, he is no longer trustworthy as a friend.

A student who helps a classmate cheat on a test, or a businessman who enables a colleague to do something illegal, looks like a good friend who's demonstrating concern for his friend. However, in the end, his lack of trustworthiness will cause him to turn against that same friend. This is a message you can keep reiterating to your children. A friend with whom rules are broken, adult wishes are disregarded, promises aren't kept, secrets are not honored is someone to stay away from. Encourage your child to hang out with other children to whom being honest is an important value. Explain how an honest friend is a true friend who can be relied on to stay a friend.

By seeking out this virtue of Emes in others, and promoting it in your own children, you will be doing more than helping your own child – you will be fostering unity among Klal Yisrael and raising the level of morals and ethics in your own family, community, Klal Yisrael and all mankind.

Best wishes for a truly inspiring and unifying Shabbos,
