CHANUKAH CONCERT AND SEVIVON SPECTACULAR!

Wednesday was an exciting day at Toras Emes as we celebrated the fourth day of Chanukah with an incredible concert performance and spinning Sevivon contest.

Our thanks to Mr. Shlomo Stauber and Azamra Orchestra for their time and tremendous talent as they entertained the students with a rousing medley of Chanukah songs. The spirit and dancing were fantastic!

The students all enjoyed the opportunity to try their hand at spinning the dreidels and eating the fruits of their labors (jelly beans!)

What a great way to celebrate Chanukah 5773. Can't wait till next year! (See photos)

Special recognition must be given to Mrs. Cohen, Mrs. Rosenbaum, Miss Flamholtz, and Mrs. Rosenberg for all of their efforts and hard work in preparation for this milestone in the girls' lives.

Yasher Koach to Rabbi Baumann for encouraging the girls with his inspiring words.

Many thanks to Mrs. Romina Mizrahi for the delicious Sufganiot. Special thanks to Mrs. Sandra Getzel for the bagels and fruit platters, to Mrs. Allison Gutfreund for the pekalach and to Mrs. Raquel Franklin for food shopping. We are most grateful to Mrs. Perla Pollock and Mrs. Charna Zeitouni for setting up. Thank you as well to Mrs. Sandra Getzel and Mrs. Dina Rubin for coming in to capture this wonderful day on video and still photography.

The girls will enjoy using the beautifully crafted Siddur Bookmarks, which were made by Mrs. Elinor Cohen, and beautifully hand-calligraphied by Mrs. Rebecca Lefkowitz.

Last, but not least, great appreciation is extended to the first grade girls and their mothers for the time and energy expended in making such beautiful and creative Siddur covers! What a Happy Chanukah this has been for the first grade girls!

ASSEMBLIES

Our Chanukah assemblies on Thursday were a huge success! Mrs. Palgon's third grade girls entertained their audience with a performance entitled "A Menorah for Dena" This Chanukah story also references the Great Depression - an event in our history that 3G has been discussing in class.

Rabbi Schwartz's fifth grade boys shared the miracle of Chanukah through a moving performance depicting how the Jews were saved on this holiday.

Yasher Koach to Rabbi Yaakov Fried and Rabbi Ariel Yeshurun for their inspiring Divrei Torah.

Erev Shabbos Parashas Mikeitz, Chanuka 5773

Dear Parents,

The festival of Chanuka provides a golden opportunity to strengthen one of our core beliefs that is too often taken for granted but is in fact, a major challenge for many of our children. The concept of Emunah Peshuta, straightforward belief in Hashem, unencumbered by philosophical and psychological complexities, is proving elusive to many of today's young Jews.

To be sure, questioning, analyzing and probing are valuable tools in the thinking Jew's arsenal. At the end of the day, however, what is the `default' position of our beliefs? When a crisis occurs, when earth-shattering events unfold – do we look to explanations based on politics, social theory, historical trends, charismatic personalities, or do we see the hand of Hashem animating the events of our lives? All the layers of `natural occurrences' that cover the hidden direction that Hashem provides for events need to be peeled away in order for us to recognize the truth of what really lies beneath everything that happens to us.

This is one of the great messages of Chanuka. No matter how you interpret the events surrounding the Chashmonaim's defeat of the mightiest army in the world, you cannot escape the obvious – that Hashem made a miracle. There is no other explanation. As the last of the holidays that our Rabbis instituted for our people, Chanuka comes to drive this lesson home – that the Jewish people's fate does not rest on the size of the enemy's army, on the statistical probabilities that seem stacked against us, nor is it restricted by seemingly limited resources, as the small jug of oil demonstrated. Just as the many can be defeated by the few, so too can a long expanse of darkness be illuminated by a very limited power source.

Our children need to internalize this lesson. The true source of illumination, the real power behind an army is our G-d. No matter how bleak things look Hashem is there, watching, waiting, caring and ready to respond decisively on our behalf, when the time is ripe. Our children need to be Ma'aminim Bnei Ma'aminim – Believers, the children of Believers. We first need to strengthen ourselves in this most basic fundamental of our faith, and then we can imbue our children with the same strength of conviction.

May the lights of Chanuka shed light on this bedrock faith of ours, and may we always keep our focus on the greatest of truths – that everything that happens is the will of Hashem. This immovable faith has sustained us throughout thousands of years of suffering, and this faith is what will bring us to be able to greet Moshiach Tzidkeinu, may he come speedily, in our times.

Best wishes for an Inspiring Shabbos and an Illuminating Chanuka,
