Eretz Yisrael Spotlight

The boys and the girls enjoyed school wide assemblies yesterday where they heard from Rabbi Baumann about the special role Eretz Yisrael plays in the lives of all Jewish people. A beautiful video showing stunning views of many parts of Eretz Yisrael was presented as well.

5G Graduation Trip

Thank You to Mrs. S. Palgon and the volunteer staff members and mothers who made this year's trip so enjoyable and memorable. See pictures on page 5.

Dear Parents,

It is well known that children live up to the expectations we have of them. If we let them know how terrific, smart, talented and capable they are, more often than not, those expectations become self-fulfilling prophecies. Unfortunately, negative expectations follow the same path – if we have pessimistic thoughts and comments about our children's abilities, they will most likely grow into unfulfilled individuals, R'L. That is, of course, a travesty and tragedy.

Many parents are not blessed with the ability to recognize the unique strengths of their children, even though Hashem has endowed every human being with special qualities. Perhaps an insight from this week's Parsha will help in a more global realization of how extraordinary every Jewish person is.

HaGaon HaRav Eliyahu Lopian, zt'l, in Sefer Lev Eliyahu (pps. 115-116) discusses the Halacha of not taking revenge or even bearing a grudge, (as brought in Vayikra 19:18). He points out that the end of that Pasuk contains the famous dictum, "love your neighbor as yourself," which means to say that the proper reaction to a slight or insult is to love your neighbor as yourself. He goes on to bring the seemingly contrasting words of the Mesillas Yesharim (Nekius - Chapter 11) that revenge is a natural response of a person who feels slighted, and refraining from revenge and not even bearing a grudge is something only angels can do easily! For humans, it's almost impossible.

Rav Lopian ponders the mind-boggling implication of these divergent ideas. Revenge is so difficult for man to refrain from, nevertheless the Torah forbids even a 12 and 13 year old from such feelings. Upon insult may one not only not hate the perpetrator, but must love him, and not 'merely' love him, but love him as himself. And this is a Torah obligation, not an act of extra piety! Who can have such behavior expected of him? But that is the amazing insight! Rav Lopian points out that this expectation demonstrates how incredibly great every Jewish person is. A Jew is capable of being the bigger person. He is expected to rise to the occasion and will even be taken for task if he does not respond to a painful hurt with a renewed, total love for the perpetrator.

Recognizing that this greatness lies within each child jump starts a cycle of increased expectations, which in turn generates positive growth and improvement in a child. The child, who is now more recognizable for his positive attributes will gain more self-confidence, in turn will generate even greater results, receive more praise and grow to become the kind of Jew who will begin to demand and expect excellence of him or herself. How great is a Jew! How great is each Jew's potential, and how much can we accomplish by looking for and noticing that greatness and encouraging each other and our children to believe in themselves and strive to reach their potential.

Have a 'great' Shabbos,

Rabbi Kalman Baumann

3G RAINFOREST EXPO!

As a culmination to the 3G-2 rainforest unit, parents were welcome to join in the 3G-2 rainforest adventure and meet some rainforest animals and learn all about them. Additionally, all of the students' work was displayed. We can't wait for our live caterpillars to turn into butterflies. Watching the metamorphosis is fascinating!!!

ROBOTICS FESTIVAL!!

On Monday, May 6th, the Girls and Boys Robotics Teams attended the Miami Jewish Day School Robotics Festival. The Girl's Team received the Champions Trophy. The Boy's Team received a trophy for winning the Mechanical Challenge. Our students had the opportunity to create something tangible and make it perform the actions that they programmed it to do. Both teams learned how science, engineering, math, and technology work together. Thank you Mrs. Shuker for all of your hard work throughout the year!

MIDDOS MOISH

Chesed Chesed Chesed Chesed

An unbelievable thing happened yesterday. A boy traded something with his friend that they both agreed upon. Later that day the boy was sad because he wanted to trade back. Even though it was a fair trade, he realized that he can do a tremendous act of kindness. The next morning as soon as he walked in the door he traded back the card. Not only did he use his Middos muscles, he also did a wonderful act of kindness.

Boruch Hashem so many voice messages are coming in. I'm so impressed with how much chessed the boys are doing. We are definitely doing our best to get ready for for Kabbalos Hatorah!
